ROSSINI'S "STABAT MATER" CONCERT

On the occasion of the 150th anniversary of Rossini's death, the Baalbeck Festival 2018 decided to include in its program the Italian composer's Stabat Mater, a masterpiece of sacred music and the finale of Verdi's Requiem "Libera me", composed for Rossini.

The concert showcased four world class soloists: the radiant soprano Joyce El Khoury who triumphed last year as the lead role in La Traviata at the London Royal Opera House, the wonderful Italian mezzo soprano Daniela Barcellona, alongside the tenor Paolo Fanale and the bass Krzysztof

Bączyk, two remarkable rising stars. Father Toufic Maatouk conducted the Bucharest Radio Chamber Orchestra as well as the Antonine University and NDU Choirs. This exceptional concert was produced in collaboration with the Italian Cultural Institute and the Italian Embassy in Lebanon.
